

YOKOHAMA tyres continue to expand its Original Equipment business, extending to more European auto manufacturers

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – YOKOHAMA tyres have been adopted worldwide as original-equipment in the automotive industry in a wide range of vehicle categories, including European leading continental car manufacturers.

With years actively participating in jointly development by top European car manufacturers, YOKOHAMA tyre has extended its original equipment supply to be fitted as standard for the Audi Q7 and A7, the Porsche 911 Carrera 4, Cayenne and Panamera, Bentley Motors' Continental series, Aston Martin V12, the Chrysler Grand Voyager, The Volkswagen Touareg, the Mercedes from A to S class, CLS, SLK, and some models of AMG and many more.

YOKOHAMA tyre has incorporated numerous innovative technologies that boost the boundaries of automotive technological developments and help realise powerful yet smooth operation. The tyres deliver sturdy yet a high level of a comfortable, quiet ride at all high-speed stability and unsurpassed safety during wet and dry handling, and braking performance. These environmentally friendly tyres also exhibit both improved wear resistance and reduced rolling resistance.

YOKOHAMA has been expanding its global original equipment (OE) business toward realizing the vision articulated in its long-term business plan, "GD100" (Grand Design 100): "evoking a distinctive global identity in building corporate value and in building a strong market presence" by the year of 2017
